

McKinnie's Travels

Introduction

McKinnie is a Gaelic name, but our family's journey has been influenced by Irish culture and Irish names in many other ways.

For reasons not fully understood, a myriad of cultural artifacts and geographic markers throughout the U.S. state of North Carolina derive their origin, their story, or their name from Irish history.

The continued migration of the McKinnie Family across the state of North Carolina has caused our own story to intersect with this tradition.

In the following visual, you will discover Irish towns, cities, & villages which share names with North Carolina streets & neighborhoods familiar to the McKinnie Family.

McKinnie's Travels

Listed below are Irish towns whose names have been adopted to name neighborhoods and streets across North Carolina where McKinnie's have lived.

Irish towns whose names were adapted to name North Carolina neighborhoods

Irish Townships established in...
600 - 1200 AD
Counties Kerry, Wexford, Waterford
Waterford	Ardmore	Cunraghmore
Killamey	Wexford	Lismore
1200 - 1600 AD
Counties Limerick, Tipperary, Dublin, Donegal, Clare, Mayo, Kildare, Cork
Adare	Kilrush	Glenaniff
Limerick	Castlebar	Greencastle
Roscrea	Kilcullen	Kinsale
Rossmore	Kildare	Ballincollig
Tipperary	Strathmore	Donegal
		Belfield
1600 - 1900 AD
Counties Mayo, Wicklow, Cork, Galway, Meath
Ashford	Slane	Coachford
Wicklow	Ashbourne	Durmore
		Swinford

Ireland

600 AD

800 AD

1000 AD

1200 AD

1400 AD

1600 AD

1800 AD

2000 AD

North Carolina

600 AD

800 AD

1000 AD

1200 AD

1400 AD

1600 AD

1800 AD

2000 AD

North Carolina streets were developed in...

Winston-Salem 27103, 27104
(1900 - 1980)

Strathmore Killamey Ashford
Ballincourt Wexford Coachford
Roscrea Ardmore

Raleigh 27604
(1960 - 1980)

Limerick Greencastle Wicklow
Tipperary Castlebar Swinford
Kilcullen

Clemmons 27012
(1985-1990)

Waterford Glenaniff Slane
Cunraghmore Kinsale Ashbourne Lake
Lismore Donegal Durmore
Belfield
Kilrush
Adare
Rossmore
Kildare